Another address was delivered by Mrs. Morrison-Fuller, of the Daughters of the Pioneers. The ancestors of these women attended the first national suffrage convention held in St. Louis in 1879

Organization of a league of woman voters to finish the fight for woman suffrage and to aid in reconstruction work in America was urged by Mrs. (att in an address she delivered at the opening of the convention. Mrs. (att proposed this as the best and most patriotic memorial to the pioneer women of the suffrage movement.

Plan of Voters' League

As outlined by Mrs. Catt, the chief sarge of the plan of the proposed cague of Woman Voters are:

First—To use its utmost influence obtain the final enfranchisement of state of the plan of the proposed carselves and the obligations and responsibilities which belong to the common who take interest and vote."

Or. Shaw, in what she called a message to the women of the country, said:

"The war has shown us that the time has come when we shall so respect ourselves and the obligations and responsibilities which belong to the common who take interest and vote."

Katherine Emmet will be seen with Ruth Chatterton in her new play, "The Ruth Chatterton in her new play, "The Merrie Month of May."

"Friendly Enemies" has been successfully presented in London under the station of cighteenth century society so shocked the Paris authorities that a public performance was forbidden. The result was that when a license was finally obtained three people were killed in the crush which stormed the theatre. Keen wit, swift action, mordant satire are among its striking characteristics.

The performance was distinguished. The long cast, headed by M. Copeau as Figaro, Mile. Bogaert as the Countess, Mile. Tessier as Suzanne and M. Bogaert as Almaviva, was admirable.

"Friendly Enemies" has been successfully presented in London under the studios, at 14 East Cone, a large silk work, which she designs and produces herself, has again placed on exhibition in her studios, at 14 East Fiftieth Street an interesting display of dyed silks, velvets, chiffons, etc. One, a large silk panel, is gorgeous in an orange, purple and red design of butterflies and flowers, and another species, designed for a fire screen, suggests "Spring" in a delicate harmony of yellows greens and blues. A large silve panel with a pillow to match is also effective in a multicolor design, subtle yet striking. The exhibition will remain open through April.
